MJC students Linda Salvati and Tania Ciolko participate in the fun and activities of the Annual Ukrainian Festival held at MJC Oct. 4, 1987. Thousands of people enjoyed the music and dance groups, ethnic foods, yarmarok and UHSC mastercraftsmen demonstrations, hayrides and helicopter rides.

President's Message:

DEAR FRIENDS:

I want to share with you the many good things happening to Manor Junior College.

The heart of Manor is its excellent academic programs with highly qualified faculty and support staff. As part of Manor's pursuit of excellence through on-going evaluation is the accreditation process. During the 1987-88 Academic Year, Manor's accreditation was reaffirmed by Middle States Association for a period of 10 years. Manor's Medical Laboratory Technician Program was reaccredited by the Committee on Allied Health Education of the American Medical Association. The National Shorthand Reporters Association has evaluated Manor's Court Reporting Program and we look forward to accreditation within the year.

The evaluation of Manor's core curriculum is this year's priority for the Liberal Arts Division. Manor seeks to more closely integrate its technical programs with its Liberal Arts base. The Continuing Education Division has reevaluated its offerings in light of service to the community. The result has been a significant increase in enrollment for these new offerings.

To inform the public of the good things happening at Manor, I have established the Advertising Committee. This Committee coordinates an advertising effort to support enrollment recruitement through paid newspaper and radio advertising emphasizing in those ads Manor's achievements and excellent academic programs.

Manor was especially honored to have PA Lt. Gov. Mark S. Singel as the 1988 Graduation Speaker, May 19. Lt. Gov. Singel, received his early education in schools run by the Sisters of St. Basil the Great. The Manor Community was delighted to have Lt. Gov. Singel renew his ties to the Sisters and his heritage by addressing the MJC graduation.

The celebration of the Millennium of the Baptism of Ukraine was a special and especially significant activity at MJC during 87-88. A symposium, "The Conversion of Ukraine, the Continuing Story" was held noting the event. Other events were the Kozak Art Exhibit, the Cantor Institute sponsored by the Religious Education Department and the Ukrainian Heritage Study Center. I was privileged to be part of the celebration of the Millennium in Rome. At the Divine Liturgy celebrated by Pope John Paul II in St. Peter's Basilica, I remembered all of you in my prayers, dear friends and benefactors.

I thank you, dear friends and benefactors of Manor Junior College, for having made it possible for all of Manor's achievements by your generous and loving support. I thank you for your support and friendship.

You, your families and all your loved ones are remembered in the Divine Liturgies celebrated for all Manor's benefactors. May God grant you many happy years of joy, peace and good health.

Sincerely yours,

Sister Mary Cecilia Jurasinski, OSBM
President

Дорогі Приятелі,

Я бажаю поділитися з Вами добрими новинами про Менор Джуніор Каледж.

Серцем Менору є його надзвичайні академічні програми, високо кваліфікований збір професорів і сприятливий персонал. Підчас 1987-88 академічного року Асоціяція Середніх Стейтів поновила акредитацію Менору на наступних 10 років. Комітет освіти галузей здоров'я Американської Медичної Асоціяції поновив акредитацію програми медичних лабораторних техніків. Асоціація Національних Стенографічних Репортерів перевела оцінку програми судового звітування і ми очікуємо її акредитації в цьому році.

Менор старається об'єднати технічні програми студій з основою загальних наук. Цього року, пріоритетом відділу загальних наук є оцінювання освітньої програми Менору. Відділ продовжування освіти перевів переоцінку своєї програми відносно користей для громади і у висліді, значно збільшився набір студентів.

Щоб інформувати публіку про добрі новини Менору, я встановила комітет оголошень. Цей комітет координує зусилля оповіщень, щоб піддержувати набір нових студентів дорогою платних оголошень в часописах і радіо, подаючи вістки про надзвичайні академічні програми і досягнення Менору.

Особливою почестю для Менору була присутність Лт.Ґубернатора ПА.,Марка С.Сінґела, головного промовця підчас ґрадуації 19.травня, 1988 р. Лт.Ґубернатор С.Сінґел одержав початкову освіту в школі де вчили Сестри Василіянки. Громада Менору раділа, що Лт.Ґубернатор С.Сінґел промовляючи до ґрадуантів, відновив зв'язок зі Сестрами Василіянками і своїм походженням.

Святкування Тисячоліття Християнства України було визначною подією 87-88 р. В квітні відбувся симпозіюм "Навернення України - безперервна історія", в травні мистецька виставка Едварда, Юрія і Яреми Козаків. Курс дяків спонзорував відділ релігійних студій і Студійний Осередок Української Культури МДжК. Я мала привілей бути в Римі на святкуваннях Тисячоліття Християнства України. Підчас Святої Літургії, яку відправляв Святіший Отець Папа Павло II в Базиліці св.Петра, я пам'ятала усіх Вас у моїх молитвах.

Дякую Вам, Дорогі Приятелі і Добродії МДжК за Вашу піддержку і приязнь. Ваші щедрі пожертви уможливили досягнення Менору.

Ми завжди пам'ятаємо Вас, Ваші Родини і Ваших близьких у св.Літургіях, які відправляються за всіх жертводавців Менор Джуніор Каледжу.

Нехай Господь обдарує Вас щасливими роками доброго здоров'я, спокою і радости.

Вдячна в Христі,

Marylou Delizia: Reflections On MSA Reaccreditation

by Mary Anne Whitehead P. R. Director MJC

If you ask Marylou Delizia, Coordinator of the MJC Steering Committee for Reaccreditation how she felt when the 100-page report for Middle States Association of Colleges was completed, she stops momentarily, sweeps her hand across her brow and replies seriously, "Relieved, a drastic immediate stress reduction."

Marylou, director of counseling at MJC, and a 1966 graduate of MJC was named coordinator of the Steering Committee for Institutional Self-Study on Aug. 19, 1985 and for the next two years and three months she lived Middle States reaccreditation and dealt with the stress of constant reports and deadlines.

"This was my first experience with an institutional Self-Study project for MSA," she explains, "and I knew a little about it by attending a workshop and reading a handbook. I thought it was an interesting idea to take stock of the entire college and look towards what we do well here and how we could grow, but I had no idea of how highly structured or chronically deadline oriented this project would be.

"There simply was no let-up on deadlines, no down time and that was stressful. But yes, when it was finally over, I felt we had done a good job, that is was a fair, honest report of MJC. I don't think we could have done anymore. And yes, I am proud to know I was the catalyst for such a significant, important part of MJC's history."

To complete the process of institutional self-study, Marylou explains, Middle States Association of Colleges provides guidelines and a time frame to assist colleges in this work. Dr. Minna Weinstein, staff member of MSA visisted MJC in February 1986 to acquaint Marylou and the College with procedures and purposes of accreditation evaluation.

The first step Marylou comments, was the creation of a Steering Committee in March 1986, to develop the organizational phase, to create an outline for self-study, task forces to study specific areas of the College and to set up a timetable for action. MJC staff members Priscilla Crowe, medical assisting director, Sue Kaye, associate dean of admissions, Joseph Stoutzenberger, campus minister and Nancy Brown Wildasin, continuing education director, and Eileen Suffet, assistant academic dean and EFDA director were named to the Steering Committee.

The Steering Committee, Marylou states, became her personal support system as the pressures of deadlines, and management of people and reports became intense.

"There were times I felt like I was an air traffic controller," she comments, "it was a high stress job, a wide scope project, that required constant watchfulness and a lot of people to keep moving, training and communicate with. The steering committee was a tremendous help to me. I knew I could count on them for support. They were hardworking and wonderful."

In addition to the Steering Committee, Task forces were formed in June 1986 representing every area of the College and included 67 members of the MJC faculty, staff and students, MJC Board Members as Task Force Consultants. Task forces and chairpersons were:

Faculty and Teaching: Esther Goldman
Curriculum and Program: Anne Knop
Student Life: Elaine Ratner
Finances: Joanna Seemiler
Mission, Goals, Objectives: Dr. Mady Seltzer
Organization and Governance: John Stahura
Instructional Resources: Sr. Marie Francis, OSBM, Dean of Students
Outcomes: Jeanne Wurtz

Beginning in August 1986 task force members researched, analyzed, and interviewed staff, faculty, students, MJC Board members, alumni and the public, to gain information about MJC in these key areas. Open hearings on task force reports were held beginning Jan. 12, 1987 with the Mission and Goals report and ending April 29, 1987 with the Outcomes Report.

"To pull it all together was an awesome responsibility." Marylou reports. "The editing of the final 100-page single space document was so frustrating. I had no sense of how long it would take; I worried I wouldn't finish in time."

Assisting Marylou in meeting that important deadline, were Barbara McGivern, MJC Board of Trustees secretary, and Paula Dettman, MJC alumna, who provided secretarial support, and Joseph Stoutzenberger and Dr. Wm. Mistchell: who provided editorial support.

Despite the massive amount of work necessary to prepare for the MSA team visit, Marylou said she felt little apprehension about their visit. "I never expected to feel as relaxed...I actually enjoyed the visit," she comments, "And I felt the report would be verified by the team being here, that what was in the report was reality."

The Middle States Evaluation team visited MJC Nov. 15-18, 1987. Members of the team included:

Dr. Helen Rose Dawson, vice-president and dean of Villa Julie College, chairperson.
Sr. Laureen Fitzgerald, president Maria College;
Jocelyn R. Hughes, dean, division of liberal arts, Hilbert College
James R. Rojohn, chairman division human development, Essex Community College;
Sr. Edward Marie Seubert, treasurer, Maria Regina College and Thomas Welch, director of Development, Wesley College.

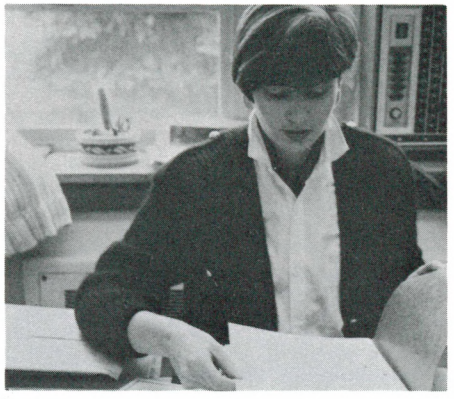
Working with the team were Harry Reimer of Higher Education Association of Pennsylvania Dept. of Education.



Checking The Report

The hard work of Marylou, the Steering Committee, and the task forces received the good news of MJC's reaccreditation in March 1988. On March 7, Sr. Cecilia, OSBM, president of MJC, announced to the MJC community "the joyous news that the Middle States Association Commission on Higher Education reaffirms the accreditation of MJC."

"When Sr. Cecilia called me to tell me the news, she was so happy but it took me 15 minutes before it hit me." Marylou smilingly states.

Overall Marylou states, she received a lot of good feelings working with the MJC community on this project but she says she couldn't read the finished report for awhile. "Now I can read it, and I know it's good and I'm proud that it will be a sample for other colleges to use," she says.

She particularly liked seeing and understanding how the college came together, and her role in leading that dialogue and she says she learned so much in the process about MJC and herself.

"I learned about my own skillfulness and about the things that give me pleasure working," she comments. "I know now that there are some things I wouldn't seek out again, and I also appreciate more the role of an editor, all the detail work that is needed there. I learned I'm not volunteering to be an editor in New York," she laughs. "What I really learned is that I prefer working in small groups and I'm more aware of my own limits, my own stress levels," she adds.

Now that it's all over, she explains, she feels a sense of accomplishment and she's very glad to have that feeling. But she's also glad to be back, working with counseling issues, and MJC's students, developing policy and procedures, doing institutional research. She's also enjoying more time with her family, husband, Roy and two sons, Craig and Brad.

"I feel my life has more balance now," she adds, "and I'm taking some time now to smell the flowers."

Division of Arts & Sciences

The year 1987-1988 was an exciting one for the members of the Division of Arts and Sciences. Our division has expanded to include a new program. The Paralegal program under the direction of Diane Pevar, Esq., began during the Fall 1988 semester. Currently, it has an enrollment of 15 full-time students and is also offering courses in the evening for part-time students. This program is designed to allow a student to either obtain full-time employment as a paralegal upon graduation or prepare the student to transfer to a four-year institution to study pre-law. We are one of the few colleges to offer an A.S. degree in paralegal studies.

In addition to this exciting development, the division is currently in the process of restructuring the Liberal Arts major to include opportunities for concentration in humanities and the sciences and to enhance academic achievement.

The Learning Center is continuing to improve and expand its services. In addition to providing basic and/or study skills information and tutoring in its PEP program, the Center also directed the PASS program for students on academic probation. The Center conducted SAT workshops for high school seniors, GED workshops, and continued offering ESL (English as a Second Language) services to our foreign students. The Learning Center continues to be an integral part of the Division offering academic support services to all Manor students.

Two members of the Division, Joseph Stoutzenberger and Sister Anthony Ann Laszok, organized and participated in the Second Annual Spring Symposium celebrating the Ukrainian Millenium in April 1988. Tapes of the symposium are available through the Religious Studies Department at Manor.

All members of the division served as either chairs or members of Middle States Accreditation Task Forces and on other committees within the college in addition to participation in many community service activities.

Goals for the 1988-89 year include an evaluation of the structure and organization of the division, continued active participation in recruitment with Admissions, and expansion and improvement of the services of The Learning Center. Above all, our commitment to academic achievement through an emphasis on excellent teaching in an atmosphere which encourages the development of academic confidence continues!

Manor Junior College
Advancing a Unique Tradition

NEW PARALEGAL PROGRAM AT MJC

A new program, Paralegal Studies was introducted in May 1988 by Manor Junior College for the Fall '88 term.

The Paralegal is a trained para-professional who conducts research and applies knowledge of law and legal procedures when working with law firms, banks, corporations and government agencies. Paralegal students who enter this field are equipped with marketable skills that prepare them for additional career opportunities.

The MJC Paralegal program combines a liberal arts education with specialized paralegal course work. Course work is taught by experienced lawyers who are specialists in their fields. Coordinator of the program is attorney Diane Pevar of Elkins Park.

The MJC paralegal program offers externships and students who graduate from MJC's two-year program receive an associate in science degree. Credits may also be transferred towards a four-year degree.

Students may enroll in the program for full or part-time study. The associate degree program emphasizes research skills, communication skills and training in analytical thinking.

Classwork is supported by an extensive law collection in the college library.

Counseling

The Counseling office of Manor Junior College offers multiple services to accommodate the needs of Manor's students. Most of the services address the educational, personal, and career issues common to traditional college-age and adult students. Some highlights of 1988 include:

—Provided information and guidance to over 25 students interested in transferring after Manor to four-year colleges, such as, LaSalle, Temple, Slippery Rock, Penn State and Thomas Jefferson.

—Worked with the Learning Center in providing tutoring and counseling support to students on academic probation.

—Sponsored workshops on assertiveness training and stress management for Manor students. Workshop leaders were Nancy Salazar, a local therapist and trainer, and Linda Dubrow-Eichel, a licensed psychologist and consultant to Manor's counseling office.

—Co-led a training session for faculty on the topic of improving communication skills with students. This session was part of a staff development program held at Sugarloaf Conference Center in Chestnut Hill.

—Celebrated international cultures through a fall and spring luncheon/picnic. Students from Hong Kong, Vietnam, and the United States participated in preparing the sharing foods from their ethnic traditions.

—In addition to direct service to students, the counseling director assisted the dean of students in researching and developing policies and procedures for the residence hall. In the area of professional development, the counseling director attended conferences focused on trends and ideas in college counseling centers; ethics in student service work; and career counseling for two-year college students.

BUSINESS

The Business Division of Manor Junior College had an eventful July '87 to June '88, beginning, of course, with the Middle States visit in the Fall. The Business Division learned a great deal as a result of the MJC Self-Study. I think everyone benefited from the Accreditation visit and we were all pleased with the outcome. I served as chairperson of the Finance Task Force and everyone in the division was actively involved in the accreditation process.

We are, as always, pleased with the faculty of our evening division. These professionals come to MJC from a variety of business backgrounds and bring to their courses expertise, speakers and current views that are of great benefit to their students. We salute their efforts and dedication.

Spring brought Secretaries Day and the annual Business Awards Program which was held April 20, 1988. Guest speaker, Joan Remmey, manager of Abbie Temps, a local personnel placement agency, spoke on the place of "Women in Business", MJC students spoke on their experiences at Manor in each of the departments.

The advanced shorthand class and the legal secretarial class had speakers from business to inform them of career opportunities in the secretarial field through the year.

Professional development was on the minds of all division members and the business department had maximum attendance at the Personnel Development Conference at Sugarloaf. Many of the MJC faculty are actively taking college courses and several attended a business education conference sponsored by Rider College.

Phil Pressler was elected to "Who's Who in Sales and Marketing" and I served as a Board of Director member at Beaver College in the Policy Formulation and Administration course during the Spring 1988 semester.

The Business division at MJC received a generous gift from Bell of Pennsylvania to update classroom equipment. All new dictation equipment was purchased and in the Word Processing lab the Magna II's replaced with several Startypes which enhanced the WP lab. Typing classes are now fully electronic with the last of the electrics being replaced.

Courses in Office Accounting have been added and an advanced Microcomputer Applications course, which fills the need for more advanced applications knowledge on the microcomputer. Larry Sperling, "computer whiz" and Manor instructor, designed and wrote the course for the department.

ALLIED HEALTH

Medical Laboratory Technician Program

During July 1987 - June 1988 fiscal year the MLT program at MJC continued through a period of peer reviews and revisions to provide the best possible education covering all educational domains: cognitive skills, psychomotor skills and affective behavior in both an academic and clinical setting.

An extensive self-study was made of the program which resulted in several curriculum changes:

1. Addition of a four-week (5 days/week) of clinical experience in the summer between the second and third semester,

2. MT 101-Basic Laboratory Procedures was expanded to include blood collection with thirty hours of practical experience at local hospitals and doctor's offices,

3. MT 102-Clinical Chemistry I (3 credits) and MT 201-Clinical Chemistry II (2 credits), Immunology I and II have been combined into one four credit course,

MT 108 (3 credits) and MT 207 (2 credits) Microbiology I and II have been combined into one four-credit course and is now classified as BI 207 Microbiology.

The self-study document was completed in January 1988. A site survey was conducted by the National Accrediting Agency for Clinical Laboratory Sciences (NAACLS) for the Committee on Allied Health Education Association (CAHEA) in late April. No deficiencies were noted in the program. The MLT program at MJC has received accreditation until 1993, when another self-study and site survey will be scheduled.

Students graduating from Manor's program meet all the requirements for all the various national certifying examinations (ASCP, ASMT, NCA, etc.).

All of the MLT May 1988 graduates were employed immediately upon graduation and 100 percent passed the ASCP registry. Employers of these graduates indicate that they are very pleased with the knowledge, performance and competency of Manor's MLT graduates.

At the present time the MLT program is affiliated with two hospitals:

1. Holy Redeemer Hospital in Meadowbrook, PA and
2. Northeastern Hospital in Philadelphia
3. One doctor's office laboratory: Family Medical Associates of Abington, PA.

At this time, these clinical sites accommodate the needs of MJC's students...as the program's enrollment grows, additional sites will be considered in Bucks, Montgomery and Philadelphia counties.

Expanded Functions Dental Assisting

The Manor Junior College Expanded Functions Dental Assisting Department has been formally notified that it has been granted full accreditation status by the American Dental Association Council on Dental Education. The visiting team gave the program several commendations for its thorough curriculum and excellent dental center facilities. All involved in the process were very proud with the team's report!

After 13 years of dedicated service to Manor Junior College, Eileen Suffet, director of the EFDA Program, accepted an opportunity to pursue another aspect of her career. Theresa DeLisi has been appointed acting director of the EFDA Program, effective August, 1988. Joanne Villante has been named acting coordinator, also effective August, 1988. Connie Walter is currently a clinical supervisor in Manor's Dental Health Center, effective July, 1988.

Acting Director EFDA

MEDICAL ASSISTING PROGRAM

During the 1987-88 academic year, the Medical Assisting Program was under the direction of Elizabeth Owens, MBA, MS, MT (ASCP) who replaced Priscilla Crowe. The goal of the program was to prepare students for an Associate of Science degree in Medical Assisting, providing them with quality instruction to ensure adequate preparation for the field. The goal also was to prepare students to take the American Association of Medical Assisting certifying examination to become a certified medical assistant after obtaining an A.S. degree in Medical Assisting and one year of full-time work experience after graduation.

The MA program curriculum was changed over the past year to improve the program.

1. MA 101-Administrative Procedures I was changed from a one-credit course to a two-credit course which now includes the material covered in MA 102-Administrative Procedures II (which has been dropped).

2. MA 108-Clinical Experience I (1 credit) was added to the curriculum. This course consists of 40 hours in a clinical setting hospital or nursing home to perform various clinical and administrative procedures under supervision.

3. MA 206-Clinical Experience II - 200 hours of supervised work experience in the office of a physician or hospital. Training includes administrative and clinical procedures under supervision. This course was concentrated into the fourth semester rather than spread out over two semesters.

Changes in course offerings that became effective in September 1987 appear to be successful.

Activities sponsored by the program during the 1987-1988 academic year consisted of:

1. Free blood pressure screening at the Ukrainian Fesitval;

2. Monthly lecture series by the American Cancer Society.

At the present time, MJC medical assistant students are affiliated with various doctor's offices throughout the area, who do an excellent job of giving MJC students the hand-on practical experience they need to make the transition from a student to a competent practicing Allied Health Professional - Medical Assistant.

Veterinary Technology

During fiscal year 1987-88, the name of the Animal Science Program at Manor Junior College was changed to Veterinary Technology. This title is more in line with the type of curriculum offered by the program, i.e., the training of veterinary technicians and laboratory animal technicians.

Christine Sandorello resigned from her position as animal science director at Manor. Dr. Patricia McManus was promoted to full-time program director. Several new part-time people joined the Veterinary Technology staff: Dr. Gordon Eaton and Joel Markevey, both full-time faculty members at Delaware Valley College of Science and Agriculture; and Dr. Alexandra Wetherill, a small animal practitioner.

The Veterinary Technology program also made a major acquisition of a stainless steel tub/table for the Veterinary Technology laboratory. This will enable students to do more procedures, e.g., grooming, surgical prep and necropsy, on campus.

The first students to experience the re-vamped veterinary technician externship recently completed their 15 weeks. The three sponsoring hospitals are Quakertown Veterinary Clinic, Rau Animal Hospital and Hopewell Veterinary in bovine and equine medical and surgical care; small animal radiology, anesthesia and surgical assistance; as well as numerous other aspects of veterinary technology. MJC students Colleen Vitanovitz, Maureen Carroll and Patty Adamow, all expressed enthusiasm over their experiences. Colleen's most exciting job was assisting jaw surgery on a Llama!

CAMPUS MINISTRY

Goals for MJC Campus Ministry are: presence, prayer, service and community. Through its presence, Campus Ministry serves as a constant reminder of the importance of the spiritual dimension of life to the Manor community. This presence manifests itself especially through the integration of prayer into every major function that takes place at the college - from orientation of new students, to graduation. Campus Ministry provides personalized prayers at student, faculty and staff events, thereby calling the community to awareness of God's presence.

Joseph Stoutzenberger, left, MJC director of campus ministry and assoc. professor of Religion and Sr. Anthony Ann Lazok, OSBM, center, MJC Religion faculty member discuss the topic of Rev. Anthony Densley's lecture. Rev. Densley, at right, director of the Religious Education office in Adelaide, Austrailia, was a guest lecturer at MJC in November 1987.

In addition to the integration of the prayer of presence into the daily life and yearly cycle of the college, Campus Ministry also celebrates certain holidays and feasts with more elaborate prayer services and liturgies. Weekly Eastern Rite Liturgy is held in the College Chapel on Saturday evenings, Roman Catholic holy days marked with celebrations of liturgy. Ash Wednesday and weekly Lenten services are an annual occurence.

Other prayer services, such as those commemorating Martin Luther King's birthday and Ukrainian Independence Day are held annually. Often students or staff members request a prayer service for special occasions or request prayers when someone close to them is ill or dying. During this past year, Manor has been fortunate to have available for its students an intercollegiate retreat program for students at colleges in the Philadelphia area. Last year five Manor students attended weekend retreats as part of this program.

Manor has as one of its goals service to the community. Campus Ministry meets this goal in a number of ways. The semi-annual Red Cross Blood Drive provide a needed service to the Philadelphia area. In 1987 a group of Manor students served as group leaders for a local high school in its retreat program. Some students visited area hospitals and sang Christmas Carols. Individual Manor students participated in LaSalle University's Spring Break Service Project in Appalachia and worked with the Philadelphia committee for the Homeless and the Mercy Hospice program.

For the past two years, Campus Ministry has worked closely with the rest of the student services staff to meet the needs of students, to be responsive to concerns of individual students, and to participate in activities aimed at building and maintaining a community atmosphere at the college. Practically speaking, this means that Campus Ministry assists with Leadership Training, Student Orientation, and even judging the best decorated doors in the Resident Hall at Halloween.

Campus Ministry provides a vital service at Manor and is integrated into all facets of college life. At Manor, not just Campus Ministry, but the entire college is concerned with maintaining spiritual presence, prayer, service and community.

Manor Junior College
Advancing a Unique Tradition

The Manor Junior College Continuing Education Department began the 1987-88 Academic year with three objectives:

1. To extend the market by increasing awareness of the continuing education opportunities at Manor.
2. To retain students through quality education and extension of support services.
3. To institute and extend recruitment efforts.

Over 100,000 brochures were direct mailed each semester to residents in 11 zip code areas. Increased leads and income that exceeded the projected income for the year resulted from these efforts.

CE participated in the Willow Grove Chamber of Commerce Business + 6, which is a cooperative program that links colleges and businesses together. This alliance includes MJC's involvement in a number of job/educational fairs held at local malls and at large companies.

The MJC recruitment coordinator represented both the admissions and continuing education departments at the Business/Education Expo held at Hatboro-Horsham High School..

The C. E. Dept. has also been involved with the Joint Ventures Center in Philadelphia, designed by CAEL (Council for Adult and Experiential Learning) to implement joint ventures between educational institutions and businesses.

Networking is an important part of Continuing Education's efforts to make the public aware of the educational opportunities at Manor. The former Recruitment Coordinator, now C. E. director Marie Lawrence, has become an active member of the Elkins Park Rotary Club.

The 1987-1988 year also included the following retention efforts:

- Ongoing Career Counseling
- Academic Advising
- Continuing Education Newsletter
- Open Houses
- Support Workshops
- Follow-up on Matriculation
- Placement test for students with no prior college experience

The latest recruiting tool has been "Thinking, Learning, Choosing" series, which combines "Return to Learning", a free workshop, with "Thinking to Learn", "Skills Assessment", and "Career Choosing and Changing". The series is offered at a nominal charge when the prospective student registers for the free workshop. To date, 45 people have attended the workshops and approximately 20 percent of those attending have enrolled in credit bearing courses.

Other workshops series offered during the year were quite successful in terms of the number of people who participated and the income generated. These include: "Microcomputer World", and Four Dental Radiology Review programs. The Cantors Institute, held in June 1988, accommodated 30 students in a week-long program coordinated through the Continuing Education Office.

Other developments for the 1987-88 year included greater cooperative efforts with the MJC Admissions dept. in an effort to increase full time and part time enrollment. In January 1988 an Advertising Committee was formed to combine the resources of the Admissions, Continuing Education and Public Relations departments.

The Continuing Education Department has shown a great deal of growth during the 1987-1988 year. It was a record breaking year for non-credit courses which helped to make the year financially successful. Excellent recruiting, advising and retention tools were developed which will be useful in the next year.

Court Reporting

In September 1988, a team of evaluators on behalf of the National Shorthand Reporters Association visited Manor Junior College to view MJC's program. The team consisted of two instructors from other reporter training approved schools in the country. Upon completion of their visit, they submitted an exit interview report which was then submitted to the NSRA. Their findings were very positive and enthusiastic. The next step in the process was for MJC's court reporting program to respond to the team evaluators' findings. A report was submitted to the NSRA and MJC is currently awaiting the Board of Approved Training for Reporters to hold its annual meeting, and at that time we will be advised of our acceptance status.

In November 1988, Manor Junior College became an official test site for the National Shorthand Reporters Association RPR/CM Examinations which are held each November and May. This is now enabling court reporters and graduating students an opportunity to receive National certification in the Philadelphia area without having to travel to Center City Philadelphia, where the test site has always been located.

Also in November students who enrolled in the Court Reporting Program took a trip to the court reporting freelance agency, RSA, Reporting Service Associates, Inc., to meet and talk with the court reporters and staff. The students were shown the computer transcription center and learned how the inner workings of a busy office functions on a daily basis.

Development

The Annual Giving of MJC surpassed its goal in 87-88 fiscal year by $10,000. This includes both the Annual Appeal and the Christmas Appeal which raised $30,000. The Easter Appeal for the first time exceeded its goal of $1,500 by raising $4,525, more than three times its goal. The Development Office continued the alumni phonathon (which started in October) into February. Volunteers contacted alumni for pledges that totaled over $4,000. This gift helps future students through scholarships.

The Council of President's Associates sponsored "Riverboat Casino" evening from which the college received donations of $6,260 to support this event.

Manor Junior College is especially grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Wasyl Soroka for their gift of $38,000 for scholarship endowment. This scholarship is a partial tuition grant awarded to a student of Ukrainian parentage who has a strong academic record and evidence of financial need.

In addition, MJC sponsored a concert by Laryssa Krupa, concert pianist, which served as a donor recognition event. Proceeds from this event raised $880. This concert was sponsored as part of Manor Junior College's 40th Anniversary of the founding of MJC and the 10th Anniversary of the Ukrainian Heritage Studies.

Manor was delighted to receive $10,000 from Bell of Pennsylvania through the courtesy of Joseph E. Toner, III, Marketing Manager and CPA member. His continued commitment to Manor is indeed gratifying.

In the fiscal year 1987-88, MJC received the following grants from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Teachers Ed. - Devel. Workshop	$20,024
Computer Tutorial - Disadvantaged	26,027
Curriculum Devel. - Freshman Seminar	39,981
Curriculum Devel. - Learning Center	39,960
Curriculum Devel. - Tutorial - Perkins	17,811
Curriculum Devel.	38,882
	$182,685

Manor is especially grateful to Dr. Madeline Seltzer, Professor of English, in obtaining these grants. This is the highest amount Manor Junior College ever received in competitive grants.

Other supporters of the College also assisted Manor's drive through various generous gifts. To all Manor Junior College's dedicated benefactors, thank you for your commitment to Manor. May God reward you for your generosity.

Annual Report 1987-1988

This special issue of Manorama contains the Annual Report for the 1987-88 fiscal year. In this report of gifts you will find the names of donors who made gifts that were received by Manor Junior College between July 1, 1987 and June 30, 1988, when the fiscal year ended at Manor. Donors whose gifts were received by Manor after June 30, 1988, will be included in the Annual Report issue for 1988-89.

This Annual Report includes gifts that were made to support Manor Junior College's "SPECIAL FUTURE FUND." This "Special Future Fund" includes:

— the Capital Campaign to raise $2.5 million to develop the campus, improve existing facilities and initiate new programs.
— the Annual Fund which provides assistance for existing programs.

Contributors that have been pledged to the Capital Campaign are listed under actual dollar amounts received for the fiscal year 1987-88 and are also listed in the general pledge category. At the end of the Capital Campaign, a complete report will be published at which time contributions received by those pledged will be placed in the category of gift-giving for the total amount pledged and received.

Donors are listed under one of the following categories:

1. BASILIAN BENEFACTORS; donors who have generously given $1,000 or more during the fiscal year. Its symbol, the burning torch, has long been associated with St. Basil whose order of Ukrainian Sisters founded Manor.

2. MANOR ASSOCIATES; donors of $500 to $999. The official Manor seal serves as an emblem for this group.

3. Named for St. Macrinia, the MACRINIAN SOCIETY; donors have given $250 to $499. The Society's symbol is the oak leaf. (St. Macrinia established the first community of Sisters of St. Basil the Great.)

4. The BLUE AND WHITE CLUB is named for Manor's school colors. Donor's under the Blue and White banner are contributors of $100 to $249.

5. FRIENDS of Manor are those who contribute less than $100. Each category is broken down as follows:

   - Unrestricted
   - Restricted
   - Matching Gifts
   - Gifts-In-Kind

Alumni are designated by the year of their graduation followed by their names, and listed under category of gift-giving.

Every effort has been made to list donors correctly in their proper category, and in the case of alumni by their class year. However, in a listing of this length, errors can occur, so if your name is misspelled or inadvertently omitted, please accept our apologies and contact the Development Office of Manor Junior College.

UHSC

The 1987-1988 Calendar of Events of the MJC UHSC included: workshops, educational presentations and cooperative exhibits with other museum and colleges; outreach educational exhibits and workshops funded by various Ukrainian and American organizations and groups and special projects funded by Grants from the Penna. Council on the Arts.

The year began with an on-campus visit of 85 students from the Fitzpatrick School in Philadelphia. The educational presentations were planned and directed by the folklorist from the International House in Philadelphia and the UHSC Curator. This event was funded by a special grant.

Other educational presentations were given to the Ukrainian Plast; American Scout troops; local school groups; cultural interest groups such as the Questers and Doylestown Hospital Auxiliary.

On-campus workshops in traditional crafts were offered through the MJC Continuing Ed. division and the UHSC matercraftsmen.

Cooperative exhibits with other museums and colleges took place throughout the state of Pennsylvania. These exhibits featured UHSC museum artifacts, work of the UHSC master craftsmen and demonstrations by the mastercraftsmen.

Some of the special exhibits that the UHSC took part in included: The Balch Institute "Ethnic Weddings in America"; The Pittsburgh Folk Festival sponsored by Robert Morris College; Susquehanna Folk Festival at Dickinson College, Carlisle, PA; Ukrainian Festival of University of Pittsburgh and nine days of exhibits and craft demonstrations at the International Village Fair celebrating the Bicentennial of the American Constitution.

Learning Center

During the 1987-88 academic year, other that successfully tutoring individual students, a major impact the Manor Junior College Learning Center has had on the college is in the area of testing. With the introduction of a standardized placement instrument for all in-coming freshmen, it is now possible to provide each entering student and advisor with current information concerning the student's skill levels in reading, writing, math. This information is used in the advising process for course selection and serves as a means of identifying any atypical students so that intervention can be initiated immediately (e.g. students with an identifiable, specific skill weakness and foreign students). It also provides data for research and evaluation.

The Learning Center staff also worked with the academic dean, the Continuing Education Department, the Admissions Office, and the Counseling Office in various projects. Finally, to enhance the scholarly reputation of the college, the director presented papers at two educational conferences and organized and chaired a program at an international reading convention in Canada.

Tutoring Services

The tutorial function of the Learning Center is well accepted by the student body. During the school year, the center had over 2000 hours of student contact. Professional tutoring was offered in the areas of reading, writing, math, study skills, English fluency for foreign students (ESL), and academic course work. A math center was developed to provide individual practice for students who needed to improve their basic math skills. Peer tutors worked with students in specific courses.

During the summer session, the Learning Center was utilized for 89 hours of tutoring. As part of the program, a formal pre/post test evaluation of the basic skills courses (English 070, Reading/Study Skills and English 080, Basic Writing) was begun. Although the number of students was small, results indicated that most students showed appreciable growth. During the fall semester, 97 students utilized the tutorial services of the Learning Center. Of these 67 students were tutored in various skills or courses for five or more sessions; 59 of these students received average or better grades in the courses in which they received assistance. In the spring semester 62 students obtained help. Of these, 37 were tutored for five or more sessions. Thirty students earned average or better grades in the courses in which they received assistance.

Placement Testing

Placement Testing is done in conjunction with the Admissions Office and the results are shared with the Counseling Office. The standardized placement testing program was first used with the '86 entering freshman class. The test that was chosen is a higher level of a test battery that is used in many high schools throughout the country. This provides the advantage of familiarity with format and can serve to lessen the stress students face in a testing situation. The results not only help in student advisement but also provide data for research and evaluation. This information can help to present a clearer picture of the student population of Manor Junior College.

Community Service

In conjunction with the Continuing Education Department, non-credit workshops to help high school students prepare for the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) were conducted. Two workshops were offered in each area (verbal and math). Pre/post test results suggest that the students profited from the programs. A new program was added to help adults obtain the General Education Development (GED) diploma which is offered by the Pennsylvania Department of Education.

Other Programs

The Prescribed Assigned Supervised Study (PASS) program that was initiated in the spring of '86 was continued. Students who had been placed on academic probation were required to meet with the director of the Learning Center on a weekly basis throughout the semester. Twelve students had probationary status during the fall semester. Of these, five (42%) were no longer on academic probation at the end of the semester. In the spring, 23 students were involved in the program. At the end of the semester, 11 (48%) were no longer on academic probation.

Future Plans

Two areas under investigation for the future are adult literacy and services for the learning disabled college student.

Public Relations

The Public Relations Department of Manor Junior College supports the mission of the College by promoting MJC through Public Relations activities, publicity and advertising.

Throughout the year, hundreds of press releases on all MJC departments and activities, and the work of the Ukrainian Heritage Studies Center are sent to the Ukrainian and non-Ukrainian media. In addition, hundreds of photos, captions, public service announcements and special features are sent to the media. This P. R. effort resulted in almost daily coverage of MJC in the local daily newspapers, and weekly coverage in the Ukrainian press.

The P. R. department works closely with the President's office, Admissions, Continuing Education and Development to increase enrollment and gift giving to the College.

During 1987-88, the P. R. director and the Continuing Education director worked closely with a professional ad agency to create a new marketing/advertising plan for MJC. The plan included new advertising for print media and the purchase of air time on radio stations KYW and WMMR. The new print ads and special radio ads for court-reporting and the new paralegal program generated additional inquiries and leads for MJC.

A special Advertising Committe was formed in 87-88 to include the President of MJC, the Admission director, Continuing Education director and the P. R. director. This special committee coordinates advertising efforts and activities and seeks new markets for MJC.

In addition to these activities the P. R. department published and edited the following:

--Manorama Annual Report
--Christmas Cards
--Weekly "Happenings"
--Alumni Newsletter
--Graduation program
--Graduation invitation
--Ukrainian Festival Program
--numerous flyers and handouts for special events and --activities

The P. R. director also provided editorial support for the '88 yearbook and for the Council of President's Associates "Riverboat Casino Night" and the annual Ukrainian Festival.

Through P. R. contacts the media came on campus for the Annual Ukrainian Festival, Graduation and UHSC Art Exhibits, Pysanky exhibits as well as workshops and special career days.

P. R. also edited a UHSC flyer which will be published in June '89 and began preliminary work on the college catalog to be published in August '89 and provided photographic support for all college activities and publications.
